Cookie Policy

Last updated: October 22, 2026

1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that a website stores on your device. Similar technologies, such as local storage, do the same job. They let a site remember your choices and how you use it.

2. What we use

This website only uses what it needs to work. It does not show ads, and it does not use advertising or tracking cookies.

If you sign in or change a setting on one of our platforms, a cookie or local storage entry may be used to remember that. Nothing here is used to follow you around other websites.

3. Control cookies

You can block or delete cookies in your browser settings. Parts of a platform, such as staying signed in, may stop working if you do.

4. Children

This website is not directed at children under 13. See the Privacy Policy.

5. Changes and contact

We may update this policy. The date at the top shows the latest change. Questions? Email support@axklo.com or read the Privacy Policy.

This document covers axklo.com. Axklo Play and Axklo Apps each have their own.
